HOW TO SAVE.

Bank of Hawaii's New Plan Meets With Great Success.

The Bank of Hawaii has received a new supply of auxiliary banks and all can now be furnished with one. The little bank is a steel strong box, having a locked door in the bottom, a slot in the top for money and a patent device inside to prevent the coins from slipping out. It is designed—the slot being always open, twenty-four hours a day—to help save the small sums that are so often needlessly spent just because they don't at the time seem to amount to very much. It's what you save, not what you earn, that makes wealth.

The Bank of Hawaii will furnish every one who will become a depositor to the amount of one dollar or more a handsome private home safe to keep at their home. You are invited to call and ask for one of these safes.

This private home safe is issued to you locked. It can only be opened by the bank. You are expected to accumulate your savings in it and return it at least once in sixty days, when your money is removed, and entered to your credit on your pass book to draw interest, and empty safe returned to you. A thousand men win competency by quietly saving their money, where one gets rich by speculation.

You expect to save later on, but are waiting till you can start with "enough to make it worth while," and before you have accumulated that much you think of something you would rather do with the money than save it. The fact is you haven't quite learned how to save. The secret of saving is to take care of the pennies.

The savings department of the bank is open on Saturday evenings from 7 to 8 o'clock.

THE DRAMA

The Walter Sanford Company of players presented "The Power of Gold" again at the Orpheum theater last night, in attractive style. The scenery of the play is of the most perfect character. The same play will be presented tonight. Tomorrow night there will be a change of program.

Walter Sanford players will present on Wednesday and Thursday evening November 17 and 18 at the Orpheum Theater the famous play, "My Jack". This play ran for 320 nights at the Drury Lane theatre, London, and also had a lengthy run at the Fourteenth street Theatre, N. Y. City. The English press on the occasion of its production with one accord, gave it the greatest praise of any drama that has appeared since "The Silver King". In the first act we are introduced to the quaint village of Falmouth, on the coast of Cornwall, England. Here is developed the love of Dorothy and Jack the plotting and counter-plotting of Sir Edward Vandenberg and Ciro Panitza the Greek. Then follows the murder in the old ruined Mill House. In the second act, is shown the deck of the British iron clad "Sea Gull," picturesquely presenting life on board a man-o-war. The third act takes the auditor to what is perhaps the most intense scene in the play. It shows the thrilling incident of Jack and Ciro, the Greek, slowly starving on the arid sun scorched African desert.

This scene is one of the most dramatic ever written, and lingers long in the mind of the spectator. The last act shows the home coming of hero Jack, and the winning of the girl of his heart, Benjamin Landdeck, the author, was a warm personal friend of Henry Stanley, the great African explorer, and it was Mr. Stanley himself, who suggested the great desert scene. Mr. Sanford justly regards this as one of his strongest plays. This play calls for the entire company in the cast, while also calling the services of a number of supernumeraries.

IS DEPORTING MANY CHINESE

AMERICA MARU HAS LARGEST CROWD OF CHINESE FOR DEPORTATION IN MONTH.

The S. S. America Maru arrived yesterday afternoon from San Francisco with a large number of passengers for Hong Kong. She is not going to Manila and as many of the Hong Kong people are going to the Philippines, they will have to take another steamer.

Aboard the America is the largest crowd of deported people that has been sent out of San Francisco in months. There are no less than 54 Chinese, 5 Japs and 1 white man being taken to various Oriental ports. The Chinese come from various places in the United States as the United States officers have rounded them up for deportation. The Japs were refused landing at San Francisco while the white man stayed away on the America Maru from Yokohama and is being taken back to that place. Special accommodations for the crowd had to be fitted up in the forward hatch. The crowd are managed while in this port but special guards are watching to prevent their escape.

Quite a number of prominent Japanese are passengers for Yokohama. Among them are S. Tetsuya, Commissioner-General to St. Louis Exposition; S. Masuda, official of the Communication Department; K. Munemasa, official of the Communication Department; Mr. and Mrs. Tosawa, and children; Mr. Tosawa is the manager of the Yokohama Specie Bank at San Francisco; Y. Kanno, of the Mitsui Company of San Francisco; S. Nakatani, Director of Hamaguchi Company of Tokyo.

Miss A. L. Handy sister of Miss Handy of the United States Court at this place, is going out to the Orient to be married.

R. A. Frost is a prominent attorney of Brooklyn. He is making a trip to the Orient.

The America Maru is scheduled to sail at 3:30 p. m. today from the Bishop wharf for the Orient.

NEW MASTER ON MARTHA DAVIS

MATE J. A. McFALL OF GEORGE CURTIS GETS NEWS OF HIS PROMOTION.

Promotion has come to a very popular and efficient officer of the Planters Line. Yesterday Mate J. A. McFall of the ship George Curtis received a cablegram from San Francisco ordering him to take the first steamer for that place, as he is to be given the command of the bark Martha Davis.

The news came as a surprise to him. Naturally Mr. McFall was delighted to receive the news of his promotion and at once took steps to get away on the Alameda tomorrow. He will take the Martha Davis and bring her back to Hilo on her regular run. Captain McFall has been the master of the Martha Davis for a number of years. He will probably be transferred in the service of the company. Mr. McFall has been mate on the ship George Curtis for the last four years.

The promotion of Mate McFall is made possible by the retirement of Captain Calhoun, from the command of the barkentine Archer. Captain Calhoun has been very ill for some time past and it is feared his retirement will be permanent. Goodey Morse the mate of the schooner W. H. Marston, goes to the Archer as mate.

THE OPENING DAY OF CONGRESS

being most complimentary to the newly elected Speaker.

The fact that a Speaker was to be elected and that this was the first session of a new Congress added to the interest that usually attaches to an opening day. Long before noon, when the gavel fell, the galleries were filled, the ladies being largely in the majority. Many more were disappointed, holders of cards of admission even being among this number.

The Democrats today rallied around a new leader, Williams of Mississippi having been chosen to take the place of Richardson of Tennessee, who retired from the leadership of the minority.

Promptly at noon Clerk of the House Alexander McDowell called the House to order. A call of the roll by states developed a quorum and the clerk called for nominations for Speaker. Cannon was formally named, and Hay of Virginia, chairman of the Democratic caucus, named Williams of Mississippi. As the call proceeded it was noted that the old members generally occupied their former seats, while new members occupied those made vacant. The red carnation was much in evidence on the Republican side, fully one-third of the members of the majority side wearing the blossom on coat lapels.

When the vote for Speaker was taken it was found that Cannon had received 183 votes and Williams 156, Cannon being declared duly elected as Speaker of the House.

Williams of Mississippi and Grosvener of Ohio were appointed a committee to notify Cannon of his election and to escort him to the speaker's chair. Williams introduced Cannon.

Cannon in a brief response said: "I appreciate the honor you confer in choosing me as the presiding officer of the House. After twenty-eight years' service in the House such an expression of your confidence touches me profoundly. I thank you. If I err in the performance of duties of office it will be an error of the head, not of the heart. In the performance of the duties of the speaker I bespeak the kindly co-operation of each member of the House. I am ready to take the oath of office."

Bingham of Pennsylvania, upon whom falls the titular honor of "father of the House," in accordance with custom, administered the oath to the Speaker. The members were then sworn in by Cannon. Following this, a resolution was adopted re-electing the old officers of the House. Committees were appointed to notify the President and Senate that the House was ready or business.

Daizell of Pennsylvania offered the resolution adopted in the Republican caucus providing that the rules of the Fifty-seventh Congress be adopted for the Fifty-eighth, with the addition that the Committee on Industrial Arts and Exposition be made a standing committee and increased to fifteen members.

Williams of Mississippi said that the minority should have a larger representation on the committees than now provided, saying that when their representation was reduced it was explained to have been due to the fact that the Democratic membership had been decreased. Now, he said, it has been increased, and he hoped that the majority would grant the request.

On demand, the ayes and noes were called, the resolution being agreed to by a vote of 191 to 165.

The biennial lottery for seats was begun at 12 o'clock. When most of the members had drawn seats, messengers began bringing in the floral tributes and placing them on the desks, but the confusion resulting from applause caused the Speaker to direct that no more be brought in. Some of those brought in were most elaborate. One piece, made to represent a locomotive, amid laughter was placed on the desk of Baker of New York, who offered a resolution in the Democratic caucus proposing that Democratic members do not accept favors or gifts from railroads.

The preliminaries incident to organization and seating of members having been disposed of, Hitt of Illinois, who has been chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee of the House, offered a resolution asking the President for papers bearing on the Panama affair.

WASHINGTON, November 9.—With the galleries crowded, with the chamber a mass of elaborate floral tributes and nearly every Senator in his place, the gavel of President pro tem Frye sounded at noon today, calling the Senate together in the second extraordinary session of the Fifty-eighth Congress.

Hoar and Gorman were appointed by the House to inform the President Congress had organized and was ready to receive any communication he had to make.

A resolution offered by Cullom fixing 12 o'clock noon as the hour of convening daily was adopted, after which the Senate adjourned.

GOMPERS TALKS

possessions. That this is unfounded is demonstrated not only by the investigations made by the representative of the American Federation of Labor sent to Hawaii, China, Japan and the Philippines, but it is borne out by the estimates of native and American workmen to the effect that there are sufficient numbers of men to perform all the work and all the kinds of work which now, or which may in the near future, be required; that as a matter of fact, in the Philippines there are more half-breed Chinese than is good for either the industrial development of the islands or the economic, social and political interests of the Philippine people. In Hawaii the Japanese have invaded every industry and calling and there, as well as in several sections of the mainland of the United States, have become and are, a growing menace to the well being of our people.

"From every section comes the complaint and the warning that unrestricted Japanese immigration is as grave a danger today as was at any time in our history of the unrestricted immigration of Chinese. This convention should emphatically declare its position upon the immigration question, not only from continental Europe, but from China and Japan, into the mainland and the insular possessions of the United States."

States. I would recommend that the appointment of a special committee be authorized early in our session to hold hearings during our convention and report thereon fully before its close.

"From the reports which reach us of the labor conditions in the Philippines and our own knowledge of the Chinese in our own and other countries, we have the right to and will dissent from Governor Taft's suggestion that any Chinese be admitted to the islands under any conditions. We cannot, however, but commend the very enlightened view he takes in his opposition to the general admission of Chinese, and also to the views he expresses on the labor movement."
